SOLON DECRIES 'FEAR OF RUSSIA' City Ponders Hospital Rate Hike

Council Would Up Salaries

Firemen, Police May Get Increase

Increased rates at Berger hospital were under consideration by city council Tuesday night along with salary increases for Circleville's police, firemen and service department workers. Final action was tabled, however, until council meets Feb. 3.

Petition to increase room and medical rates at the city-operated hospital was made after an investigation headed by Councilman-Al-Large Robert Adkins and Mayor Thurman I. Miller. Rate hikes would provide for hospital at-tache pay raises and increased operational costs.

The proposal was made on the basis of rates charged in other hospitals throughout the state.

Whether the pay raises would be a flat rate or set individually was not indicated. It is likely, however, that the amount of raises may be set this week at informal meetings between councilmen.

WHEN THE increases are set, City Solicitor George Gerhardt will be instructed to fill out the petitions and votes will be cast on the ordinances at the next meeting. No councilman would opine how much the pay raises, if any, would amount to.

After one hour and half recess in closed session to discuss pay raises and hospital rate hikes, Councilman-Al-Large Ray Anderson made a motion to suspend the rules and take action on the setting of rates of in-crease at Berger hospital.

The motion failed 5-2 when Councilman Boyd Horn of 4th ward cast a negative vote which was sufficient to defeat the motion with Councilman Ray Cook absent.

Anxious to get the rate in-crease in motion, Anderson explained to Horn that suspension of rules did not cover pay raises in any of the other departments.

Adkins then made a motion to reconsider the suspension of rules and take up increased rates. The motion carried the second time with six in favor.

While speaking on the proposed salary hikes, Anderson indicated he was in favor of a straight salary increase, and the cost of living bonus given city employees during the war was (Continued on Page Two)

ONE MAN'S OPINION

The GOP meeting in Philadelphia ran out of hotel rooms and tickets. Fortunately the supply of candidates is holding out.

At the June convention each state will have four delegates-at-large. Each state now has four candidates-at-large.

And states that elected a Republican senator get a bonus of three delegates. I hear Taft is saying "now I can prove I'm worth three other men at the convention."

Also each state that voted Republican in 1944 gets a bonus of three delegates. The quiz question this year will be: "You now have three bonus delegates; would you like to try for six?" And 300 Democrats in the gallery on spectator's tickets will scream "you'll be sorrreere!"

WHEN THE ROAD turned and the automobile didn't, this accident at Prophetstown, Ill., resulted. The car smashed through a glass-enclosed porch after leaping 25 feet when it hit a concrete-retaining wall and then tore through a wall of the living room. The driver and his companion were seriously injured Mrs. Ernie Hodge, asleep in an adjoining room, suffered a neck injury when her bed was knocked several feet from the wall by the impact.

Leopold To Quit Throne; Son, 17, Next Belgian King

GENEVA, Jan. 21—A member of the royal household of exiled King Leopold of Belgium said today that the king has agreed to renounce the throne in favor of his son, Prince Baudouin.

The king was said to have reached an agreement with Belgian Premier Paul Henri Spaak in a Geneva meeting Sunday.

The spokesman said that the agreement provides that Leopold receive "historical satisfaction on a particular point", that he will renounce his throne in favor of his elder son, and that Spaak publicly inform the Belgian people that the royal problem has been "settled favorably."

Reports from Lisbon said that Leopold and his family are embarking on the Dutch Steamer Sommeldijk today for a vacation trip to Cuba.

LEOPOLD has been exiled in Switzerland since the end of the war. Only last December Spaak, head of the Socialist party, had won a vote of confidence from the Belgian parliament on his refusal to give in to Catholic party demands that Leopold be returned to the throne.

Leopold has been accused of surrendering Belgium to the Germans without notifying his allies in 1940.

Prince Baudouin, who reportedly succeeds to the throne, is only 17 years old.

Leopold had previously insisted that he would not renounce the Belgian throne unless a plebiscite showed that the majority of the people rejected his monarchy. The Belgian government has steadily refused to hold a plebiscite.

The reported agreement that Leopold will get "historical satisfaction," was taken to mean that Spaak will issue a statement at least partly acquitting the king of the charges.

Leopold, the third king of that name to reign over Belgium, is 46 years old. He came to the throne on the death of his father, the late King Albert in 1934. He has three children, the Princess Josephine-Charlotte, 21, Prince Baudouin, and Prince Albert, 13.

25 Miss Death As Plane Plows Into Snow Bank

BOSTON, Jan. 21—A four-motored Eastern Air Lines Constellation plane skidded into a snow-bank and burst into flames today while landing at Logan international airport here but the 20 passengers and five crew members escaped with their lives.

Seven passengers received injuries, the most serious of which was a broken leg suffered by one of the four women aboard.

The big air liner, due in from Miami, made a perfect landing on the hard surface of the runway, traveled about 300 feet, began to slide on the snow-covered surface, went out of control, and "plunged into a seven foot snowbank."

The plane, traveling at approximately 60 miles an hour, struck the bank with such terrific force that the No. 4 motor was sheared off. This apparently started the fire.

SMOKE BEGAN to pour from the forward part of the ship, but within half a minute flames broke through into the plane. Passengers ran for the rear exit and some leaped 20 feet to the runway.

The plane was piloted by Capt. Merrill Thayer, of Miami, who ordered an instrument landing because of the low ceiling and poor visibility, due to the storm.

Council Urged Annex Grounds

Proposition for Circleville city council to take action on annexing Pickaway County Fairgrounds, which is half in the city and half in the county, was made by the fair board Tuesday night at council meeting.

The board said the city had everything to gain and nothing to lose by incorporating the exposition grounds within the city limits.

Increased revenue would be gained through the amusement tax, and the city would benefit on the present insurance rates. Police protection would be unified, too, the board said.

As it has been in the past, both city and county peace officers are required to protect their half of the grounds. The proposal indicated no additional obligations would be inherited by annexation. The fair board would continue to pay for any additional police protection necessary. Council members said they would think about it.

Herbert At Work

COLUMBUS, Jan. 21—Governor Herbert's bride was spending her first day in the governor's mansion and Herbert was back at his desk today following the honeymooning couple's return here last night.

Police arrived on the scene shortly after the assault, but were unable to find any trace of the attacker.

School Budget Up $22,969

Board Says State To Pay Increase

The Circleville board of education passed a resolution Tuesday night to appropriate $220,705.43 for operating expenses during 1948. The amount is $22,969 more than for last year.

More than half of the total expenditures for 1948 will be used for teacher's salaries and wages. Teachers in the Circleville school system will share $153,209.20 of the adopted appropriations.

An itemized tabulation of the total appropriation of the $220,705.43 for the new year follows:

Instruction, salaries and wages—$153,209.20; coordinate activities—$1,550; operation of school plant—$12,250; special services—$325; supplies—$13,600; materials for maintenance—$4,225; equipment replacement—$2,000; contract and open order service—$5,950; fixed charges and contributions—$11,432.56; capital outlay—$1,200; and unanticipated emergencies—$14,956.67.

BOARD MEMBERS said the increase will not come from the local taxpayer's pocket, but from an increase of $37,639 in state aid.

Other business of the meeting was the report of the Building committee on findings of a school site in the north end of town for a proposed new elementary school. The school is to be built in the immediate future for the expanding population in that section.

Ray W. Davis, member of the committee, said a suitable lot had been located, but that negotiations on purchase price and the extent of property to be purchased had not yet been arranged with the owner.

Zoning Ruling Again Sought

An old ghost reared its ugly head again Tuesday night in the form of a city zoning ordinance for Circleville. The idea has bobbed up in city council meetings for years, but no action has ever been taken.

Councilman Robert Adkins made the proposal, he said, to protect existing property by the establishment of a city planning commission. Under the present laws, Adkins reminded his fellow council members, "there might be a junk yard set up right next to your home."

Jim Vost, 145 Montclair avenue, spoke in favor of the zoning ordinance as "a representative average citizen."

Council President Luther Bowler said he would establish a committee to work with City Solicitor George Gerhardt on restricting junk yards and "smelly filling stations."

Columbus Area Given Scare

COLUMBUS, Jan. 21—Columbus police cruisers worked desperately this morning to inform residents of approximately 6,000 north end homes that they are without gas service.

Public address systems were brought into play to notify residents in the area north of Oakland Park to turn off gas burners until service can be restored.

Authorities said city water works employees broke a gas main while repairing a water line.

Police reported a minor explosion occurred when workmen attempted to turn on the gas again. No damage was reported.

LONG WAY FROM GOAL

Only $750 Contributed To March Of Dimes Here

The campaign committee for the Pickaway County $10,000 March of Dimes drive reported Wednesday that only $750 has been donated to the anti-polio fund during the first week of the drive.

Don Henkle, chairman of the campaign, said the money has been coming in rather slowly, but that in the second week he hopes countians will hurry their donations along to aid in the program.

"This campaign is not for my benefit," says Henkle. "Each Pickaway County resident should participate in the drive to the fullest of his ability, since each may feel proud that he did his part toward helping our youngsters if the goal is met."

I URGE all the parents in the county to do their utmost to see that the drive is a success, so that each will have the same glow of satisfaction at seeing the job well done."

During Saturday's "tag day" sale on the streets of Circleville, some of the youngsters who sold tags became over-enthusiastic with their business, and went from house to house trying to sell their tags.

"I am not one to quell enthusiastic workers in this drive," said Henkle, "but I do wish to make it clear to the people who were approached in their homes Saturday by the youths that their activities did not constitute our regular house-to-house canvass, which will come in the near future."

"I hope that when the ladies from the three local women's clubs stage their canvass, those same people will find the benevolence to dig down for the second time."

The thermometer posted on the G. C. Murphy building on the Court street side will give the daily results of the local drive.

"We hope," says Henkle, "the thermometer will record the hottest week in the history of the county."

Long Holds Lead In Governor Poll

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21—Two former Louisiana governors were in a neck and neck race today for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Returns from yesterday's primary election, which virtually assures the high man of winning the governorship, gave Earl K. Long a lead of some 3,000 votes over Sam Jones, his nearest rival.

Long is brother of the late Huey P. Long Jones served as governor from 1941 to 1944 after sweeping hold-overs of the once powerful Huey P. Long machine out of office.

Aid Plan Failure Predicted

Vet Groups Press For Program OK

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—Sen. George (D) Ga., asserted today that the American people "cannot go on 'hating Russia'" during four years of the Marshall Plan "without starting a fuss with them."

George told the senate foreign relations committee that the European Recovery Program is "bound to be a failure" if it is built solely on "fear of Russia" and cautioned against overemphasis on that aspect of the project.

The senator's impromptu remarks came as Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, on the other side of the capitol, declared that new American loans to stabilize currency of Marshall Plan countries will be necessary, "probably in 1949."

Snyder said in testimony before the house foreign affairs committee that stabilization loans would be required to maintain the exchange rates of the beneficiary nations and guarantee private investors convertibility of local currency into dollars.

George told his senate colleagues, "I don't think we'll be at war with Russia," and added:

"Any program built on fear of any other country that must endure for four years is bound to be a failure."

"Within four years, we'll either be starting a fight or we'll become very friendly with the other fellow. We are not built to carry on enmity for a long time."

AT THE SAME time, the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars warned Congress that the Marshall Plan must be approved to stop the aggressive "Red tide" of Communism and prevent possible Russian atomic bomb attacks on the United States.

The combined organizations, with a combined membership of 5,272,060, told the senate foreign relations committee:

Knutson Dislikes Move To Slash His Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., termed unwarranted GOP proposals to cut his five billion 600 million dollar tax reduction bill as the house ways and means committee met today to report out the legislation.

The committee chairman predicted that his group will approve the measure substantially without change this afternoon or tomorrow.

Speaker Martin (R) Mass. plans to call it up in the house for consideration Jan. 29 or 30.

The Republican tax leader and former speaker, who commented that "that bill never will become law" and the Republicans know it."

KNUTSON retorted: "He's indulging in wishful thinking. That bill will become law."

Rising Costs

The combination of rising prices and increasing polio incidence in the United States is placing a heavy financial burden on March of Dimes funds administered by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Since 1938, when the organization was founded, costs of medical care and hospitalization for infantile paralysis patients have more than doubled. One of the most expensive diseases known to medicine, the average cost of treating one case of polio today is $2,000.

Council Would Up Salaries

continued. Several other councilmen appeared to favor that idea.

IF ANY raises are to be granted, Anderson said, they should be retroactive to Jan. 1, to cover time lost in council deliberation on the matter.

Present salaries at Berger hospital on a yearly basis total $26,908.53; for police, $14,571.69; and firemen, $14,307.40 plus $213.92 for special firemen.

Construction of a new sewage pumping station also faced city council. The proposed site, as explained by Ervin Leist, water and sewage department manager, would be at Hargus creek and Lancaster pike.

The station would provide sanitary sewers to approximately 50 homes on the north-east side of the creek as far as Fairview avenue and the Fairgrounds which includes the new stadium expected to be open in February.

The plan also calls for extension of sewers on Watt street east of McCrea avenue. The Watt street situation was brought to light in a letter signed by a group of residents who live on the Watt street extension and are provided with no sanitary drains.

The matter was referred to the service committee for further study to include other sections of Circleville that have no sewage system under present operations.

The committee delegated by Council President Luther Bower to investigate purchase of land for pump station site is: Fred Brown, Cook and Adkins.

One site proposed along Hargus creek is owned by Henry T. McCrady and others, Leist said. A second location is under consideration and is in approximately the same location.

ORDINANCE setting the sewage rate at $475 per year to be paid by the Container Corporation of America for disposal services was passed on the first reading. Councilman Cook requested the suspension of rules which was given unanimous approval. The same rate prevailed last year.

Circleville's overall financial statement for 1947 as submitted by City Auditor Lillian Young was accepted by council. Balance in the general fund as of Jan. 1, 1948 was totalled at $26,583.16.

The breakdown includes total balance and receipts in the general fund as of Jan. 1, which was $110,131.27. Expenditures were $83,548.11 for the year.

Councilman Horn's lone negative vote moved the ordinance to place repair, maintenance and upkeep of the city parking meters under the director of public safety onto a third reading at council's next meeting. Anderson motioned to suspend the rules, but it was defeated. Horn had opposed the measure at the last meeting of council.

A motion by John W. Eshelman to place a "flicker" light at the entrance of Forest cemetery was placed in the hands of the safety committee.

Sales Ordered By Local Court

Sale of two estates was ordered Tuesday by Sterling Lamb, judge of Pickaway County probate court, and the sale of a third property received his approval.

Appraisal of the Ora B. LaRue estate was confirmed by the court with value of a house on West Franklin street set at $8,500 and $10,000 for a 22-acre tract of land with buildings in Walnut township.

Both properties were ordered sold by the court on demand of beneficiaries. First appraisal of the estate was declared partial and a new appraisal was ordered.

J. L. Spindler, executor for the J. Perry Stoltz estate, was ordered to sell the properties for not less than $450. The sale was demanded to pay all debts on the estate.

Sale of the Bessie G. Bowman estate was reported and approved at $6,010. The record was entered in court by Daniel A. Bowman, administrator. The estate was purchased by Milton Leist.

2 Inventories Are Approved

The estate of William H. Whaley was one of two inventories approved Tuesday by Sterling Lamb, judge of Pickaway County probate court. Total personal property and real estate was valued at $8,038.13.

Appraisal of $3,752.80 in personal and real estate for the Grace F. Whaley estate also received the judge's approval.

lations committee that the program is necessary to safeguard the future peace and security of the United States.

National Commander James F. O'Neill of the American Legion declared that cost of the European Recovery Program is "very small" compared to the cost of war and involves "a reasonable assessment each citizen can and should bear for the prevention of war."

The Legion commander said that without the program Russia will take over control of at least half a billion people, gain a war potential surpassing the United States and increase her capabilities of producing atomic bombs and delivering them.

O'Neill flatly declared that the greatest menace facing America "is the aggressive spread of Communism, fostered by a powerful totalitarian state," and added "we must combat this resolutely."

SIMILAR feelings were expressed by Ray H. Brannaman, commander-in-chief of the VFW who said it is conceded that the spread of Communism to Western Europe would "constitute a threat to the security of the United States."

Brannaman told the committee, however, that Congress must proceed with caution in determining the amount of money to be expended and not endanger America's already inflated economy with an "international WPA."

He suggested authorization of an appropriation for operation of the program until June 30, 1949, and that Congress in the Spring of 1949 reconsider the whole subject based on a year's operation and the effect upon domestic economy.

Meanwhile, the U. S.-Soviet crisis in occupied Germany was linked with congressional action on the Marshall Plan as America's top occupation officials flew home to report on their showdown with Russia.

There appeared to be a strong possibility that Gen. Lucius D. Clay and Ambassador Robert Murphy, en route home from Berlin, would be called to testify before the senate foreign relations committee.

Chairman Vandenberg (R) Mich., conducting the Marshall Plan hearings, said he had "no comment" on whether he would ask the U. S. occupation commander and his political adviser to testify. Army headquarters in Washington said they expected Clay's plane to arrive today.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Oestreicher
INS Foreign Observer

The almost incredible extent to which Communist agitators are prepared to go in attempting to defeat the Marshall Plan was revealed today with discovery of a plot to cripple the Ruhr valley by general strikes.

British officials are convinced that Communist leadership is responsible for preparation of two "protocols" outlining detailed plans for industrial and rail walkouts.

On the face of it the plan is an almost unbelievable one.

It has something of the aspect of dismantling a skeleton.

Because certainly if Ruhr valley workers, whether Communist or non-Communist, participated in such a demonstration for any considerable period they could not achieve anything but deterioration of a situation that everyone admits is hardly bearable as it is.

IT ALWAYS has been difficult for Americans to understand why strikes in Europe so often are staged at the worst possible times.

Workers will walk off their jobs at a command when they have no reserves or "cushion" whatever to fall back upon.

Bus drivers long accustomed to carrying triple loads on every journey will quit even in the knowledge it means miles and miles of walking for other workers whose plight they presumably are trying to improve.

But even so, anything approaching a general strike amidst the gaunt ruins of Germany simply staggers the imagination.

But it seems inconceivable that the Germans, always a hard-working people who have known immeasurable suffering in the last few years could become a party to any such an inverted conspiracy. The only visible purpose of a strike in the Ruhr valley today would appear to be mass suicide.

Social Security Aide To Be In City Friday

A representative of the Columbus field office of the social security administration will be at the Circleville postoffice on Friday from noon until 2 p. m. to take claims and give advice on old-age and survivors insurance benefits.

In a comparison survey made by the administration, it was revealed that more persons were benefiting from the insurance at the end of 1947 than at any previous time in the federal insurance history.

During 1947, approximately 1,975,000 persons throughout the nation were receiving benefits at an average monthly rate of $38,100,000. Figures of the previous year show 1,642,000 beneficiaries at an average monthly rate of $31,081,000.

Statistics maintained in the office of the pension insurance reveal that three of every five beneficiaries now on the rolls are women and children.

At the same time, approximately 11,600,000 wage and salary earners in this country have attained lifetime insurance by completing the required number of years on a job covered by the Social Security Act.

Additional increases in appropriations were granted Monday by Pickaway County commissioners for the clerk of court's office, state agriculture extension fund and the courthouse, jail and janitors.

An additional $200 was allotted the clerk of court's annual budget which would provide for $10 increases requested for Deputy Clerks Martha Ebenhack and Betty Boardman.

The salary increases would raise Mrs. Ebenhack from $135 to $145 per month and Miss Boardman from $110 to $120. The 1947 appropriation for the clerk's office totalled $5,585.

A $600 hike in appropriations was added to the courthouse, jail and janitor fund. Last year's allotment amounted to $17,700.

The agriculture state extension fund was jumped $300 by the commissioners. The fund received $2,850 last year.

Council Would Up Salaries

IF ANY raises are to be granted, Anderson said, they should be retroactive to Jan. 1, to cover time lost in council deliberation on the matter.

Present salaries at Berger hospital on a yearly basis total $26,908.53; for police, $14,571.69; and firemen, $14,807.40 plus $213.92 for special firemen.

Construction of a new sewage pumping station also faced city council. The proposed site, as explained by Ervin Leist, water and sewer department manager, would be at Hargus creek and Lancaster pike.

The station would provide sanitary sewers to approximately 50 homes on the north-east side of the creek as far as Fairview avenue and the Fairgrounds which includes the new Coliseum expected to be open in February.

The plan also calls for extension of sewers on Watt street east of McCrea avenue. The Watt street situation was brought to light in a letter signed by a group of residents who live on the Watt street extension and are provided with no sanitary drains.

The matter was referred to the service committee for further study to include other sections of Circleville that have no sewage system under present operations.

The committee delegated by Council President Luther Bower to investigate purchase of land for pump station site is: Fred Brown, Cook and Adkins.

One site proposed along Hargus creek is owned by Henry T. McCrady and others, Leist said. A second location is under consideration and is in approximately the same location.

ORDINANCE setting the sewage rate at $475 per year to be paid by the Container Corporation of America for disposal services was passed on the first reading. Councilman Cook requested the suspension of rules which was given unanimous approval. The same rate prevailed last year.

Circleville's overall financial statement for 1947 as submitted by City Auditor Lillian Young was accepted by council. Balance in the general fund as of Jan. 1, 1948 was totalled at $26,583.16.

The breakdown includes total balance and receipts in the general fund as of Jan. 1, which was $110,131.27. Expenditures were $83,548.11 for the year.

Councilman Horn's lone negative vote moved the ordinance to place repair, maintenance and upkeep of the city parking meters under the director of public safety onto a third reading at council's next meeting. Anderson motioned to suspend the rules, but it was defeated. Horn had opposed the measure at the last meeting of council.

A motion by John W. Eshelman to place a "flicker" light at the entrance of Forest cemetery was placed in the hands of the safety committee.

Sales Ordered By Local Court

Sale of two estates was ordered Tuesday by Sterling Lamb, judge of Pickaway County probate court, and the sale of a third property received his approval.

Appraisal of the Ora B. LaRue estate was confirmed by the court with value of a house on West Franklin street set at $8,500 and $10,000 for a 22-acre tract of land with buildings in Walnut township.

Both properties were ordered sold by the court on demand of beneficiaries. First appraisal of the estate was declared partial and a new appraisal was ordered.

J. L. Spindler, executor for the J. Perry Stoltz estate, was ordered to sell the properties for not less than $450. The sale was demanded to pay all debts on the estate.

Sale of the Bessie G. Bowman estate was reported and approved at $6,010. The record was entered in court by Daniel A. Bowman, administrator. The estate was purchased by Milton Leist.

2 Inventories Are Approved

The estate of William H. Whaley was one of two inventories approved Tuesday by Sterling Lamb, judge of Pickaway County probate court. Total personal property and real estate was valued at $6,038.13.

Appraisal of $7,522.80 in personal and real estate for the Grace F. Whaley estate also received the judge's approval.

Aid Plan Failure Predicted

National Commander James F. O'Neil of the American Legion declared that cost of the European Recovery Program is "very small" compared to the cost of war and involves "a reasonable assessment each citizen can and should bear for the prevention of war."

The Legion commander said that without the program Russia will take over control of at least half a billion people, gain a war potential surpassing the United States and increase her capabilities of producing atomic bombs and delivering them.

O'Neil flatly declared that the greatest menace facing America "is the aggressive spread of Communism, fostered by a powerful totalitarian state," and added "we must combat this resolutely."

SIMILAR feelings were expressed by Ray H. Brannaman, commander-in-chief of the VFW who said it is conceded that the spread of Communism to Western Europe would "constitute a threat to the security of the United States."

Brannaman told the committee, however, that Congress must proceed with caution in determining the amount of money to be expended and not endanger America's already inflated economy with an "international WPA."

He suggested authorization of an appropriation for operation of the program until June 30, 1949, and that Congress in the Spring of 1949 reconsider the whole subject based on a year's operation and the effect upon domestic economy.

Meanwhile, the U. S.-Soviet crisis in occupied Germany was linked with congressional action on the Marshall Plan as America's top occupation officials flew home to report on their showdown with Russia.

There appeared to be a strong possibility that Gen. Lucius D. Clay and Ambassador Robert Murphy, en route home from Berlin, would be called to testify before the senate foreign relations committee.

Chairman Vandenberg (R) Mich., conducting the Marshall Plan hearings, said he had "no comment" on whether he would ask the U. S. occupation commander and his political adviser to testify. Army headquarters in Washington said they expected Clay's plane to arrive today.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Oestreich
INS Foreign Observer

The almost incredible extent to which Communist agitators are prepared to go in attempting to defeat the Marshall Plan was revealed today with discovery of a plot to cripple the Ruhr valley by general strikes.

British officials are convinced that Communist leadership is responsible for preparation of two "protocols" outlining detailed plans for industrial and rail walkouts.

On the face of it the plan is an almost unbelievable one.

It has something of the aspect of dismantling a skeleton.

Because certainly if Ruhr valley workers, whether Communist or non-Communist, participated in such a demonstration for any considerable period they could not achieve anything but deterioration of a situation that everyone admits is hardly bearable as it is.

IT ALWAYS has been difficult for Americans to understand why strikes in Europe so often are staged at the worst possible times.

Workers will walk off their jobs at a command when they have no reserves or "cushion" whatever to fall back upon.

Bus drivers long accustomed to carrying triple loads on every journey will quit even in the knowledge it means miles and miles of walking for other workers whose plight they presumably are trying to improve.

But even so, anything approaching a general strike amidst the gaunt ruins of Germany simply staggers the imagination.

But it seems inconceivable that the Germans, always a hard-working people who have known immeasurable suffering in the last few years could become a party to any such an inverted conspiracy. The only visible purpose of a strike in the Ruhr valley today would appear to be mass suicide.

Social Security Aide To Be In City Friday

A representative of the Columbus field office of the social security administration will be at the Circleville postoffice on Friday from noon until 2 p. m. to take claims and give advice on old-age and survivors insurance benefits.

In a comparison survey made by the administration, it was revealed that more persons were benefiting from the insurance at the end of 1947 than at any previous time in the federal insurance history.

During 1947, approximately 1,975,000 persons throughout the nation were receiving benefits at an average monthly rate of $38,100,000. Figures of the previous year show 1,642,000 beneficiaries at an average monthly rate of $31,081,000.

Statistics maintained in the office of the pension insurance reveal that three of every five beneficiaries now on the rolls are women and children.

At the same time, approximately 11,600,000 wage and salary earners in this country have attained lifetime insurance by completing the required number of years on a job covered by the Social Security Act.

ANGRY REPORTER SPEAKS

Solons Said Using Aid Plan To Garner Votes

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—Surely, every once in a while, even a newspaperman is entitled to get mad.

OK, now I'm mad. I'm mad about two-thirds of the characters who are serving in this Eightieth Congress—and I don't mind telling you why.

It's about the Marshall Plan. Or, if you prefer, the European Recovery Plan (ERP for short). And, at the moment, I'm not plugging for it or against it.

But, after all the smart-talkers have finished with it, there remain really only two basic points to that plan. One concerns the feeding of starving people and, as yet, nobody has protested that. The other concerns the prevention of another war.

Right or wrong, the supporters of the Marshall Plan insist that if we keep Central Europe from going Communist at this point we will prevent, or at least delay, war between this country and Russia. Even those who disagree with the plan will concur that such a conflict now is threatening, although they hold that the Marshall Plan may increase, rather than diminish, the threat.

IN ANY CASE, the point is that, no matter how you view it, the Marshall Plan is concerned with peace-versus-war or vice versa, depending on your opinion.

So how do our legislators on Capitol Hill react? That, dear friends, is why I'm mad. At least two-thirds of them (as checked by this correspondent's galloping poll) react like politicians.

In short, they're more interested in how the vote will go next November—if they support or oppose the plan—than they are in whether the plan will prevent or incite a new war.

That's what they say when they talk to you privately. If you try to get them involved in conversations about the plan itself, you're wasting your time.

They (and by "they," I mean this two-thirds I'm talking about) want to know how you think the average voter is going to feel in November. They don't even pretend to have delved into the world situation to the extent that they might have an opinion on the Marshall Plan. They're just interested in whether it's politically more wise to vote against it or for it during this current session.

Maybe, if you rationalize these things, that's all right. I don't know. I only know that it fills me with fury—a frustrated, futile sort of fury. For, during the recent unpleasantness, I flew enough missions to see these kids shot down off to our right and our left. And I spent enough time in the combat-line to see more of them crumble in frontal attacks, trying to take objectives that soon became names everybody forgot.

SO ALL THAT'S emotional. So all that's anger. So what? It still stands as basic truth, doesn't it? And isn't it adequate cause to get hot-headed when people evaluate war—involving legislation purely on a political basis?

Because that's what most of the boys on Capitol Hill are doing about the Marshall Plan. They're figuring it carefully on a vote-getting basis, regardless of what it means as to peace or war. And, if you think I'm fooling, there isn't an honest veteran reporter on Capitol Hill today who won't agree.

Something that really burns me is that there's at least one fat-backed potential presidential candidate who—happily never having heard a shot fired in anger—is going around chopping at the Marshall Plan purely and simply because his advisers have told him it is the smart thing to do politically.

This guy never was in a war and never will be, unless the atom bomb is dropped in our time, so the stinking rot of war's

U. S. To Run Stamp Vendors

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—The Postoffice department acted today to combat the "take" of privately-owned stamp vending machines.

Postmaster General Jess M. Donaldson announced that the department is introducing for the first time today its own "non-profit" stamp machine at the Rochester, N. Y., postoffice.

Unlike the private machines, the government will give the stamp buyer five one-cent stamps for a nickel, five three-cent stamps for 15 cents and two five-cent airmail stamps for a dime.

The private vending machines offer the public only four one-cent stamps for a nickel and three three-cent stamps for a dime.

real meaning has no effect upon him.

But there again, it could be said that my reaction is simply the result of irrational anger. So, to underscore the point I'm trying to make, this much should be said:

Assuming that I approve the Marshall Plan, I still have a greater respect for the man who fights it because he believes it will breed war than I do for the man who supports it because he thinks such a stand will bring him votes!

When you want to arrange a loan for any business reason, stop in and talk with one of our officers. You'll get prompt service.

Rural Folk Increase Spending Only 5 Pct., Economists Say

COLUMBUS, Jan. 21—Reports on national income and of consumer buying indicate that rural economists at Ohio State University that people have increased their rate of spending only five percent over the wartime level when goods were scarce but the economists point out that the five percent increase in spending put $10,000,000,000 more dollars into trade channels in 1947.

The economists explain that prices of goods have increased faster than rates production so the $10,000,000,000 did not buy as many units of merchandise as it would have bought in 1946.

National income at the end of 1947 was at the rate of $200,000,000,000 a year, and people were spending more than 80 percent of it, which left about $30,000,000,000 for tax payments and savings.

The economists do not detect any signs of a recession in income or spending within the next few months. At the end of 1947, national income was at the highest level on record, wholesale prices had climbed within 3.5 percent of the peak reached following World War I, and farm land values were only four percent under the record set in 1920.

CROP PRODUCTION in 1947 was reduced by bad weather but the total produced still was only a little below the average of the five best years of U. S. farm history, and the 1947 total was exceeded only in the years 1942, 1944, and 1946. The 1947 total was

"There is No Substitute for Fair Dealing"

20 percent greater than the annual average of farm production in the years 1923-32.

Although the University rural economists see no indications of a break in farm prices soon, they do urge farmers to remember that the income from a lot of farm enterprises is not received for six months to a year after the farmer pays the greater part of the expenses of production. Costs of production are now at an all-time peak.

ANGRY REPORTER SPEAKS

Solons Said Using Aid Plan To Garner Votes

By KENNETH L. DIXON
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—Surely, every once in a while, even a newspaperman is entitled to get mad.

OK, now I'm mad. I'm mad about two-thirds of the characters who are serving in this Eightieth Congress—and I don't mind telling you why.

It's about the Marshall Plan. Or, if you prefer, the European Recovery Plan (ERP for short). And, at the moment, I'm not plugging for it or against it.

But, after all the smart-talkers have finished with it, there remain really only two basic points to that plan. One concerns the feeding of starving people and, as yet, nobody has protested that. The other concerns the prevention of another war.

Right or wrong, the supporters of the Marshall Plan insist that if we keep Central Europe from going Communist at this point we will prevent, or at least delay, war between this country and Russia. Even those who disagree with the plan will concur that such a conflict now is threatening, although they hold that the Marshall Plan may increase, rather than diminish, the threat.

IN ANY CASE, the point is that, no matter how you view it, the Marshall Plan is concerned with peace-versus-war or vice versa, depending on your opinion.

So how do our legislators on Capitol Hill react? That, dear friends, is why I'm mad. At least two-thirds of them (as checked by this correspondent's galloping poll) react like politicians.

In short, they're more interested in how the vote will go next November—if they support or oppose the plan—than they are in whether the plan will prevent or incite a new war.

That's what they say when they talk to you privately. If you try to get them involved in conversations about the plan itself, you're wasting your time.

They (and by "they," I mean this two-thirds I'm talking about) want to know how you think the average voter is going to feel in November. They don't even pretend to have delved into the world situation to the extent that they might have an opinion on the Marshall Plan. They're just interested in whether it's politically more wise to vote against it or for it during this current session.

Maybe, if you rationalize these things, that's all right. I don't know. I only know that it fills me with fury—a frustrated, futile sort of fury. For, during the recent unpleasantness, I flew enough missions to see these kids shot down off to our right and our left. And I spent enough time in the combat-line to see more of them crumble in frontal attacks, trying to take objectives that soon became names everybody forgot.

SO ALL THAT'S emotional. So all that's anger. So what? It still stands as basic truth, doesn't it? And isn't it adequate cause to get hot-headed when people evaluate war—involving legislation purely on a political basis?

Because that's what most of the boys on Capitol Hill are doing about the Marshall Plan. They're figuring it carefully on a vote-getting basis, regardless of what it means as to peace or war. And, if you think I'm fooling, there isn't an honest veteran reporter on Capitol Hill today who won't agree.

Something that really burns me is that there's at least one fat-backed potential presidential candidate who—happily never having heard a shot fired in anger—is going around chopping at the Marshall Plan purely and simply because his advisers have told him it is the smart thing to do politically.

This guy never was in a war and never will be, unless the atom bomb is dropped in our time, so the stinking rot of war's

U. S. To Run Stamp Vendors

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—The Postoffice department acted today to combat the "take" of privately-owned stamp vending machines.

Postmaster General Jess M. Donaldson announced that the department is introducing for the first time today its own "non-profit" stamp machine at the Rochester, N. Y., postoffice.

Unlike the private machines, the government will give the stamp buyer five one-cent stamps for a nickel, five three-cent stamps for 15 cents and two five-cent airmail stamps for a dime.

The private vending machines offer the public only four one-cent stamps for a nickel and three three-cent stamps for a dime.

real meaning has no effect upon him.

But there again, it could be said that my reaction is simply the result of irrational anger. So, to underscore the point I'm trying to make, this much should be said:

Assuming that I approve the Marshall Plan, I still have a greater respect for the man who fights it because he believes it will breed war than I do for the man who supports it because he thinks such a stand will bring him votes!

Rural Folk Increase Spending Only 5 Pct., Economists Say

COLUMBUS, Jan. 21—Reports on national income and of consumer buying indicate that rural economists at Ohio State university that people have increased their rate of spending only five percent over the wartime level when goods were scarce but the economists point out that the five percent increase in spending put $10,000,000,000 more dollars into trade channels in 1947.

The economists explain that prices of goods have increased faster than rates production so the $10,000,000,000 did not buy as many units of merchandise as it would have bought in 1946.

National income at the end of 1947 was at the rate of $200,000,000 a year, and people were spending more than 80 percent of it, which left about $30,000,000,000 for tax payments and savings.

The economists do not detect any signs of a recession in income or spending within the next few months. At the end of 1947, national income was at the highest level on record, wholesale prices had climbed within 3.5 percent of the peak reached following World War I, and farm land values were only four percent under the record set in 1920.

CROP PRODUCTION in 1947 was reduced by bad weather but the total produced still was only a little below the average of the five best years of U. S. farm history, and the 1947 total was exceeded only in the years 1942, 1944, and 1946. The 1947 total was

Refreshments were served from a tea table decorated in winter greenery, chrysanthemums and tall tapers. Mrs. Cromley and Mrs. Downing presided at the silver service. Hostesses for the January session were Miss Heffner, Miss Florence Dunton, Mrs. T. E. Wilson, Mrs. Bryce Briggs, Mrs. James P. Moffitt, Mrs. James H. Adams, Mrs. R. D. ## Canton Lady Loses 36 Lbs. Says Renell Is Fine

Mrs. M. Elder, 1419 5th St. NE, Canton, Ohio writes us, "I am 38 years of age and when I started taking Renell Concentrate I weighed 174 lbs. Now I weigh 138 and my dress size has changed from 20 1/2 to 16. I like Renell for reducing it does not upset my stomach as other preparations have."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomfort of being overweight. Renell is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple. Just go to your drugist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Renell. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if it reduces pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Renell—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on and obtain genuine Renell.

Soil Value Breakdown Is Feared

Ag Agent Urges Definite Plan

A general warning was sounded Wednesday for Pickaway County farmers to begin now on soil conservation practices to prevent a breakdown in the soil when production and income are needed most.

The tipoff was given by J. A. Muster, soil conservationist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture. He said too few farmers are giving serious consideration to conservation of their natural resources.

Pickaway County farmers are given every opportunity and the greatest encouragement to launch a widespread conservation program. Close cooperation between the local Agriculture Adjustment Administration and Muster's office not only supplies the needed conservation materials but also the "know how."

Farmers in this county who wish to take advantage of the AAA program have until Feb. 1, to sign a compliance sheet at the local AAA office. John C. Boggs, chairman of the Pickaway County agriculture program will advise and help applicants secure supplies for the coming year.

A REPORT from the conservation office on 1947 fertilizer results said 20 to 30 bushels increase per acre in corn yields was obtained during the year at two plowdown fertilizer demonstrations.

Soil conservation tests have been made on the Glen Hay farm in Walnut township and the W. H. Wilson farm in Wayne township.

The report disclosed on the Wilson farm that 400 pounds of two percent nitrogen, 12 percent phosphorus and six percent potash used in a row produced a yield of 54.4 bushels an acre. When a 2-12-6 ratio was used with 500 lbs of 20 percent ammonium sulphate plowed down, the yield was 74.8 bushels.

On the same farm when 840 pounds per acre of 12-2-6 were plowed down before using the 400 pounds of 2-12-6, the results were 77.5 bushels of corn per acre.

Compared with the Hay farm, the use of 400 pounds at 3-12-12 was made in the row, 64 bushels was the yield per acre. When 500 pounds of 20 percent ammonium sulphate was plowed down before the 400 pounds of 3-12-12 fertilizer, it yielded 95.7 bushels.

A yield of 115.9 bushels per acre was obtained from 840 pounds of 12-6-6 plowed down before the use of 400 pounds of 3-12-12. This was an increase of 38.4 bushels over the Wilson farm.

THE ACTUAL tests were conducted by the agriculture extension service with L. A. Best as supervising agent who worked in cooperation with the Pickaway soil conservation district.

Muster said the results obtained are in no way intended as recommendations as to fertilizer use. The variations in yields obtained on these two farms alone, says Muster, indicates the inadvisability of making the results the basis for widespread use.

The average results of 16 trials made last year in nearly as many Ohio counties showed that ammonium sulphate plowdown fertilizer plus the miner-

Average Ohioan Bought $20 Worth Of Liquor In '47, Report Shows

COLUMBUS, Jan. 21—Drinking the alcoholic kind—is really big business in Ohio.

Last year it brought the state some $53 million in revenue—meaning that every one of Ohio's seven million men, women and children paid an average of some $7.50 in alcohol taxes alone.

The 1947 figures haven't been tabulated as yet. But there are enough of them available to show that total state sales of liquor, for instance, totaled $137,528,157—or about $20 per person, not counting wine and beer.

HOW MUCH wine and beer was sold? State Treasurer Don H. Ebright will soon report that Ohio's income from 3.2 percent beer stamps was $2,554,352; from hi-powered beer stamps $16,844,798, and from stamps on wine and mixed beverages, $1,767,433.

That totals $21,166,000—and remember, that's the stamp tax alone.

Add to that the $8,478,823 collected in gallonage taxes on the more potent spirits and the $6,872,788 paid for licenses. Then tack on some 16-1/4 millions for the profit from the liquor monopoly, although that figure hasn't yet been tallied. You will get the 53 millions, with a few also used in the row gave an average increase of 22 bushels per acre over the row application alone.

A plowdown of 12-6-6 plus the mineral in row applications increased the yield on the average 29.1 bushels per acre over the row alone, the report revealed.

A widespread belief that more than a light application of fertilizer will "fire" corn was discounted in the 1947 farm demonstrations.

Reports Claim Greek Girls Held As Slaves

FILIPINES, Greece, Jan. 21—A hitherto-undisclosed chapter of the "little war" in Northern Greece—the alleged enslavement of hundreds of Greek peasant girls by Communist guerrilla forces—was reported today.

Thousands of others claim to have fled from farms and isolated villages in terror of being captured.

They have taken refuge in the larger plains towns such as Jannina, Arta and Paramythia. But some girls apparently have joined the guerrillas of their own volition.

The story of mass flight from Gen. Vafiades Markos' guerrilla army bristles with charges of barbarism and brutality.

According to on-the-spot estimates, over one thousand women and girls between the ages of 17 and 25 have during the last two months been carried off by Markos' guerrillas.

THESE GIRLS, who are taken to guerrilla hide-outs, usually in districts situated hundreds of miles from their villages, are used for nurses, cooks, housekeepers and mistresses.

There are reports that several hundreds have been led to guerrilla camps in Albania or Yugoslavia for the same purposes.

After a period of intense indoctrination, some agree to enlist as guerrillas. They are then assigned to a guerrilla unit in which there are usually two women to every ten men.

Welfare Agency Ponders Housing

COLUMBUS, Jan. 21—The state welfare department was expected to attack its problem of housing for medical personnel from a new angle today after bids on a "trial balloon" project at Massillon state hospital exceeded estimates by nearly 25 percent.

The department had placed an estimate of $46,331 on three physicians' units offered for bids yesterday. Low bids exceeded that estimate by $11,184.

Spokesmen said it probably would be recommended to State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood that the bids be rejected.

The trend in the Massillon bidding indicated the department would have to adopt another tack in its attempt to attract medical personnel to state institutions by offering them housing.

State Planning Alcohol Study

COLUMBUS, Jan. 21—The state of Ohio is taking cognizance of the large number of mental disorders caused by alcoholism.

Acting Mental Hygiene Commissioner Edward J. Humphreys said today that a state-sponsored conference to plan a war against alcoholism will be held soon.

Dr. Humphreys reported an

Pauley Set For Panel Grilling

Vigorous Fight Friday Seen

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—Edwin W. Pauley was reported today to be mapping a vigorous fight Friday when he goes before senate speculation investigators in a joint appearance with his leading critic, Harold E. Stassen.

An informed source said that Pauley—who visited Capitol Hill yesterday—is ready to “take the offensive” with a strongly worded demand that the subcommittee vindicate him of accusations that he gambled on commodities with inside information about what the government was going to buy.

The special assistant to Army Secretary Royall was said to be preparing charts to support counter-accusations that his critics have “smeared” him with the “inside information” charges.

Under Friday's schedule, Stassen, candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, will testify first, and Pauley will submit a series of written questions which Chairman Ferguson (R) Mich., promised to propound to Stassen.

FERGUSON said that Pauley will be questioned further about transactions that appeared on the detailed record of his dealings, which Ferguson made public later.

Subcommittee sources indicated that Pauley's questioning probably will center about his purchases of commodities since Sept. 3, when he took the Army post. One GOP senator conceded privately that “inside information” accusations “would be hard to prove.”

Pauley, in a Jan. 3 letter which Ferguson made public yesterday, cited three specific instances which he said proved that he did not have “inside information.”

An informed source said privately that Pauley is preparing data on other similar “instances” in which he contends a trader with inside information would have acted differently.

Ferguson said he plans to recall Agriculture Secretary Anderson to ask him again whether he and Pauley discussed lard when the secretary visited his Pacific island estate last August. Pauley bought lard shortly afterward, and a few days later the government announced increased overseas allocations, boosting the price.

Water Crisis Being Eased

ASHTABULA, Jan. 21—Ashtabula's ticklish water problem was eased somewhat today by rising temperatures.

Certain areas of the city were virtually closed down yesterday when needle ice clogged the Lake Erie intake pipe of the Ashtabula waterworks company which serves the city of 28,000.

Four times previously the pipes had been closed, causing depletion of a three-million-gallon reserve supply. The problem became critical yesterday when engineers were unable to clear the intake.

Schools in Ashtabula and neighboring communities were closed by the water famine. A number of industrial plants and business places also were forced to close.

Fire Hits Home; Lad, 4, Dies

MT. VERNON, Jan. 21—Knox County authorities tried to establish definitely today the cause of a fire that destroyed a three-room concrete block cottage and took the life of a four-year-old boy.

The body of the victim, Donald Edwin Dial, was recovered from the charred ruins of the home a mile southwest of here after the fire was extinguished.

His parents, Edwin Dial, 24, a war veteran, and Frances, 23, received burns about the face and hands in their frantic efforts to rescue the boy. A second son, 10-month-old John Stephen Dial, was brought to a local hospital with burns about the head. He was reported in serious condition.

Taber Against Addition To White House

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—Republican Economy Chief John Taber declared today that he is going to try to stop President Truman from adding a balcony to the White House.

Asked what he thinks of Mr. Truman's plan to build a back porch to the south portico, the house appropriations committee chairman remarked:

“I'm against it and I am going to see if we can't put a stop to it.”

Mr. Truman recently stated that despite the controversy raised by his disclosure, he is going ahead with his plan to build a second floor balcony on which White House occupants might relax in private during the hot Summer months.

The balcony would be just outside Mr. Truman's bedroom and study and screened by a three-foot iron railing.

CIO Chiefs Risk Split In Move To Slap Wallace

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 — CIO leaders risked an internal blow-up today as they met to draft a resolution repudiating the third party candidacy of Henry A. Wallace.

Vigorous opposition to such a stand is expected to rise from a number of left-wing CIO unions which already have endorsed the former vice-president's campaign.

These endorsements, together with several statements opposing Wallace, were issued despite CIO President Philip Murray's plea that the individual union action be withheld until the organizations' national political policy was laid down.

A session of CIO's nine vice-presidents today, a meeting of the organization's 51 member executive board tomorrow, and a conference of the CIO Political Action Committee executive board on Friday will hammer out that policy.

The real showdown probably will come tomorrow in the CIO executive board's session where the left-wing unions have their full strength. They would be overwhelmingly outvoted on the PAC unit.

The PAC executive board is made up of Director Jack Kroll and the presidents and secretary-treasurers of the five top CIO unions—the steel workers, the auto workers, the textile workers, the clothing workers and the electrical workers.

Vigorous Fight Friday Seen

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—Edwin W. Pauley was reported today to be mapping a vigorous fight Friday when he goes before senate speculation investigators in a joint appearance with his leading critic, Harold E. Stassen.

An informed source said that Pauley—who visited Capitol Hill yesterday—is ready to "take the offensive" with a "strongly worded demand" that the subcommittee vindicate him of accusations that he gambled on commodities with inside information about what the government was going to buy.

The special assistant to Army Secretary Royall was said to be preparing charts to support counter-accusations that his critics have "smeared" him with the "inside information" charges.

Under Friday's schedule, Stassen, candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, will testify first, and Pauley will submit a series of written questions which Chairman Ferguson (R) Mich., promised to propound to Stassen.

FERGUSON said that Pauley will be questioned further about transactions that appeared on the detailed record of his dealings, which Ferguson made public later.

Subcommittee sources indicated that Pauley's questioning probably will center about his purchases of commodities since Sept. 3, when he took the Army post. One GOP senator conceded privately that "inside information" accusations "would be hard to prove."

Pauley, in a Jan. 3 letter which Ferguson made public yesterday, cited three specific instances which he said proved that he did not have "inside information."

An informed source said privately that Pauley is preparing data on other similar "instances" in which he contends a trader with inside information would have acted differently.

Ferguson said he plans to recall Agriculture Secretary Anderson to ask him again whether he and Pauley discussed lard when the secretary visited his Pacific island estate last August. Pauley bought lard shortly afterward, and a few days later the government announced increased overseas allocations, boosting the price.

Water Crisis Being Eased

ASHTABULA, Jan. 21—Ashtabula's ticklish water problem was eased somewhat today by rising temperatures.

Certain areas of the city were virtually closed down yesterday when needle ice clogged the Lake Erie intake pipe of the Ashtabula waterworks company which serves the city of 28,000.

Four times previously the pipes had been closed, causing depletion of a three-million-gallon reserve supply. The problem became critical yesterday when engineers were unable to clear the intake.

Schools in Ashtabula and neighboring communities were closed by the water famine. A number of industrial plants and business places also were forced to close.

Fire Hits Home; Lad, 4, Dies

MT. VERNON, Jan. 21—Knox County authorities tried to establish definitely today the cause of a fire that destroyed a three-room concrete block cottage and took the life of a four-year-old boy.

The body of the victim, Donald Edwin Dial, was recovered from the charred ruins of the home a mile southwest of here after the fire was extinguished.

His parents, Edwin Dial, 24, a war veteran, and Frances, 23, received burns about the face and hands in their frantic efforts to rescue the boy. A second son, 10-month-old John Stephen Dial, was brought to a local hospital with burns about the head. He was reported in serious condition.

Automobile Title Check Urged

Pickaway County automobile owners are urged to check their car titles with Clerk of Courts A. L. Wilder to confirm whether they are holding certificates or memorandum certificates before auto tag sales begin Mar. 1.

In Circleville, tags may be bought from Mrs. Ruth Wignel, 116 East Franklin street.

Out-of-state car owners are advised to fill out the necessary papers in the clerk of court's office before applying for their auto license. Any change in motor serial numbers must also be recorded by all car owners.

Taber Against Addition To White House

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—Republican Economy Chief John Taber declared today that he is going to try to stop President Truman from adding a balcony to the White House.

Asked what he thinks of Mr. Truman's plan to build a back porch to the south portico, the house appropriations committee chairman remarked:

"I'm against it and I am going to see if we can't put a stop to it."

Mr. Truman recently stated that despite the controversy raised by his disclosure, he is going ahead with his plan to build a second floor balcony on which White House occupants might relax in private during the hot summer months.

The balcony would be just outside Mr. Truman's bedroom and study and screened by a three-foot iron railing.

SEVERAL years ago, when the late President Roosevelt revealed plans to build an extension to the west wing of the White House, Taber announced his opposition to the program.

The New York congressman made it stick by inserting in an

Beach Hearing Is Awaited

CLEVELAND, Jan. 21 — Harold A. Beach, 22, confessed slayer of eight-year-old Sheila Ann Tuley, was to be arraigned late today in Cuyahoga County common pleas court here on a charge of first-degree murder.

Judge Samuel H. Silber was expected to choose a counsel for Beach sometime today. Judge Silber and Beach would have sufficient time to consult with his lawyer before being asked to enter a plea.

Beach was indicted yesterday afternoon by the grand jury on charges of having stabbed the girl to death on New Year's night when she resisted his advances. Beach was arrested in Baltimore where he admitted the killing.

Recalling the dispute of two years ago, Taber remarked: "We might do the same thing this time."

COLUMBUS, Jan. 21—When officials of the Columbus Mariners break out a new broom, they really sweep clean.

Officials of the All - America Basketball League entry announced today the signing of an entirely new team—formerly the Dayton Mets—to represent Columbus.

Club President Fred Wile said all members of the former squad, which won only five of 12 games, have been released. One player, Al Mazza, former Marshall college star, will be given an opportunity to try out with the new club.

The Mets, who have won 24 and lost nine, are coached by Herb Brown, former Ohio State athlete.

The team roster includes Nathaniel "Sweetwater" Clifton and Duke Cumerland, formerly with the New York Nets; John Brown, one-time Harlem Globetrotter, and Les Pugh, who starred at Middletown high school and Ohio State.

Columbus Pros Fire 1 Team, Hire Another

COLUMBUS, Jan. 21—When officials of the Columbus Mariners break out a new broom, they really sweep clean.

Officials of the All - America Basketball League entry announced today the signing of an entirely new team—formerly the Dayton Mets—to represent Columbus.

Club President Fred Wile said all members of the former squad, which won only five of 12 games, have been released. One player, Al Mazza, former Marshall college star, will be given an opportunity to try out with the new club.

The Mets, who have won 24 and lost nine, are coached by Herb Brown, former Ohio State athlete.

The team roster includes Nathaniel "Sweetwater" Clifton and Duke Cumerland, formerly with the New York Rens; John Brown, one-time Harlem Globetrotter, and Les Pugh, who starred at Middletown high school and Ohio State.

Duncan Signs

COLUMBUS, Jan. 21—Howard Duncan, regular Ohio State center in 1947, has signed with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National pro league. The 220-pound Lakewood griddler had a year of college eligibility remaining but will complete graduation requirements in June.

WOULD YOU REALLY?
IT'S ALL well and good to say what you would have done in his place, after you have learned about the disaster that befell a poor unfortunate because of some bid, lead or play he made. But are you really sure you would not have done exactly the same thing he did? Now be honest with yourself. Isn't it pretty hard sometimes to be absolutely sure what action you would have taken?

That got set four tricks, giving East and West 1,100 points, whereupon a kibitzer—who sat behind South, not North—said he would have passed in North's position instead of making the 2-Diamond overcall on the second round which inaugurated his trouble. He was of course sincere, but still we aren't certain he would have passed with that freak distribution. Further, we feel sure he would have made the spade bid after the diamond call was doubled. Why? Because a man famous for psychic bids was in the West, none other than Oswald Jacoby himself, a player who might have called spades without them.

Whatever blame attached to South for taking out the double of 2-Spades into 3-Diamonds is hard to figure, when he had a singleton in one suit and three to an honor in the other. How could he tell that the spade would go down only 500 points?

At the other table of a team match, North never got into the bidding at all. But his entire problem was different since West made a dealer opening of 1-Spade, which led ultimately to his partner playing the hand at 3-No Trumps and making five for a score of 460 points, including the 300 not vulnerable game bonus.

Vaughn Monroe, starred on CBS Saturday nights, may not be making records since the Petrillo ban, but he's certainly breaking records during his current personal appearance tour. Monroe set a new box office mark at the RKO Palace Theatre in Cleveland bringing in $14,414.27 for three days against Glenn Miller's previous record of $11,600. Then Monroe moved on to the RKO Palace Theatre in Rochester and broke the opening day score with a hefty $3,473.50.
